from the Publishers

First, we owe our thanks to the authors in this anthology. We love having an opportunity to share their messages and their stories, and we cherish it all the more because we get a chance to know the people behind them. Their wisdom and insight, which you can find for yourself in the coming pages, was matched in turn by character and professionalism. It has been a privilege to work with all of them.

Many thanks also to Sharon Armstrong of the SAA Trainers and Consultants Network, a free referral service for HR, OD, trainers, coaches, and keynote speakers. Sharon is a HR consultant and author, and she was very helpful to us as we began to develop this anthology. She can be reached at (202) 333-0644 or online at www.trainersandconsultants.net.

Lastly, we would like to thank the authors of the recent What's Next in Human Resources, a “prequel” anthology published by Greyden Press, for their continuing efforts to build a robust community of forward-thinking Human Resources professionals through writing and publication.

This anthology is centered upon a simple idea: that the daily work of Human Resources can be bigger, better, more meaningful, and more impactful. The authors bring their perspectives on Human Resources and how it can live up to new dreams in the coming years of change. We're proud to share their visions with you.
